

CenterStone Enterprise Reporting

Today's real estate and facilities executives must make multi-million dollar portfolio decisions about occupancy, utilization and lease obligations, while managing costs and profitability across multiple divisions, business units and locations.

Can you capture and analyze the data you need to make the right decisions and create a positive impact on your organization's bottom line?

CenterStone Enterprise Reporting from Manhattan Software provides real-time decision support to unlock critical workplace information. You can then apply your insight and analysis for planning, forecasting and making better business decisions about your portfolio, lease obligations and operations.

Easy to Use, Powerful Tools

Whether novice or expert, users can create and edit reports on-the-fly and quickly extract and connect meaningful information from the robust data across all of CenterStone. Enterprise Reporting can be launched from within any CenterStone module at any time. Users have complete control over layout and formats and can preview reports easily before executing and printing. Powerful new reporting tools include enhanced search and reporting capabilities, extensive configuration, a Report Wizard for creating reports quickly and a Report Designer for more complex reporting requirements.

Enterprise Reporting fully integrates standard CenterStone reports, custom search and the report wizard. The report development and creation process is easier and more intuitive than ever before and all existing legacy reports are supported and accessible.

CenterStone comes pre-packaged with over 100 industry standard reports covering such topics as business unit allocation, lease portfolio, BOMA, assets, and work orders and includes extensive ad hoc reporting capabilities and dashboards
